

Call for Submission of Abstract Research Seminar on Climate Change

A Research Seminar on Climate Change is being organized by Clean Energy Nepal (CEN), School of Environmental Science and Management - Pokhara University (SchEMS - PU), LDC University Consortium on Climate Change (LUCCC), Faculty of Forestry-Agriculture and Forestry University (FoF-AFU) on 8th March 2019 (24th Falgun 2075) at Hetauda, Makwanpur with the aim of sharing and documenting graduate researches on climate change that can provide future directions to the researches on the field.

The thematic focus areas of the seminar are listed below:

1. Climate change impact and vulnerability assessment
2. Adaptation, limit to adaptation and loss and damage
3. Mitigation, low-carbon development and energy efficient technologies
4. Sustainable development goals and disaster risk reduction
5. Social dimension and ethics of climate change that also includes livelihood options, gender and social inclusion, indigenous knowledge and practices
6. Broadly on the environmental issues related to climate change, such as pollutions, biodiversity, forests, water, agriculture, tourism etc.

This seminar targets graduates who have recently completed their researches and/or currently undertaking researches on the above mentioned themes. Interested candidates are requested to submit their application with abstract to info@cen.org.np.

Deadline to submit the application with abstract and posters: 23rd February, 2019

Notification to the selected applicant: 1st March 2019

The expert committee will evaluate the abstracts and might allocate them either for oral or for poster presentation. Cost for travel and accommodation for the seminar will be covered by the organizers.

For further details: Please write to shankar@cen.org.np (Cell: 9841632023)